ocean wonder vr

i like how it all looks. but the game is pretty barren. only one button on one of your motion controllers is used (the trigger) and controller tracking isn't used either so it's weird that tracked motion control is the only input available. (shame i was hoping on actually feeding fish.) instead it uses the headsets motion control to mark/aim at things.

it runs well and i've seen worse games so i don't plan on refunding but i can't recommend it either maybe in the future there will be more to it after a few updates.that is if they update.
